LibertyNET meets the needs of educational institutions

Better management of paperwork helps reduce costs

Overview

With tens of thousands of students and dozens of forms related to financial aid and student registration, efficient information management is essential to the daily operations of educational institutions. Since 1987, LibertyNET has been the solution of choice to meet the documentation and information needs of such diverse facilities as numerous K-12 school districts, local and technical colleges and one of the world's most prestigious universities. Integrated with existing applications such as student information and financial aid systems, LibertyNET is truly an enterprise-wide central repository that ties together information management needs.
